Paid Search and Unassigned bring 11% of sessions but only 3% of purchases

Purchases per session by channel. Only channels with 1,000 sessions or more are included.

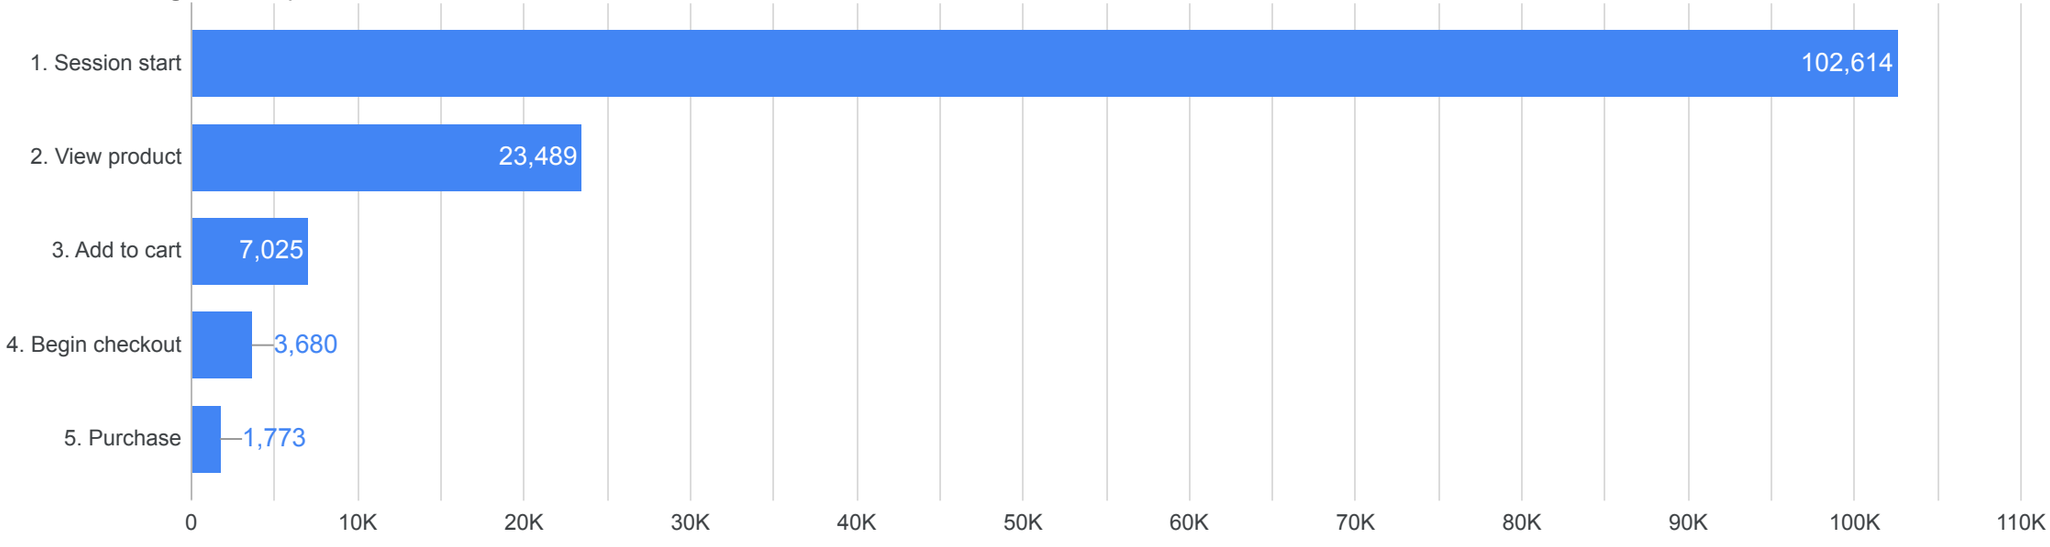

Filter by channel. Titles describe all channels.

70% drop-off between viewing the product and adding it to the cart

52% of users who begin checkout leave before completing the purchase.

Grupo de canales predeterminado de la sesión

Users reaching each step.

65% of users come from mobile, but 92% of purchases happen on desktop

The sum of devices at each step is slightly higher than the total, because the same user can visit from more than one device and is counted in each.

			Device category / Users
Funnel step	mobile	desktop	tablet
1. Session start	67,529	35,012	787
2. View product	7,396	15,767	203
3. Add to cart	1,325	5,619	36
4. Begin checkout	585	3,084	18
5. Purchase	138	1,631	4

Even within the same channel (Organic Search), of the users who begin checkout, 16.4% complete the purchase on mobile and 41.9% on desktop.

The United States accounts for almost all purchases (94%), and no other country reaches the average of 1.4% purchases per session

The table only shows countries with 1,000 sessions or more. Sessions without an identified country (not set) are not included; they represent 32% of the month's sessions and generated no purchases. They are presumed to be low-quality traffic, although the cause cannot be confirmed.

Excluding sessions without a country (not set), desktop converts 2.8% of its sessions into purchases and mobile only 0.5%

	Device category	Sessions ▾	Purchases	Total revenue	Purchases per session
